

FACE™ Conformance Training Course

The purpose of a FACE Conformance Training Course is to enable learners to gain knowledge of the FACE Conformance Program process from a business and technical perspective, the roles within the Program, as well as what can be certified.

Takeaways

Individuals who have attended this training course will have the following takeaways:

- An understanding of the FACE Conformance Program
- An understanding of what products can and cannot be certified
- The ability to manage the submission of a Unit of Conformance (UoC) for certification through the process

Target Audience

The target audience for this training course includes, but is not limited to:

- Individuals who want to become acquainted with the FACE Conformance Program
- Individuals outside of the FACE Consortium who want to become acquainted with the FACE Conformance Program
- Professionals working for an organization that desires to have a Unit of Conformance (UoC) certified

The Value of this Training

Individuals who have completed this training course will have knowledge and understanding of:

- The process of the FACE Conformance Program as well as what can be certified and how
- The roles involved in the FACE Conformance Program
- The major steps in the FACE Conformance Program
- The FACE Verification process
- The scope of the Software Verification Package

Prerequisites

None.